

The Finningleys Tony and Jane were close friends and Neighbours, who we shared many holidays and social occasions with. They were great fun and good friends who cared and shared with us during some difficult and challenging times.

The Finningleys

The Lord of the Manor, in his New Orchard estate
Opposite the Harvey, which is now first rate
In the village pond, the ducks do dippers
Quack on his lawn, he's out in his slippers

Hair in the air
Why it's still very fair?
Also now together bound
With harmony I found

Out comes that shout
It's her Ladyship about
Was that the peacock we hear
It's her in-door, no chuffin fear

Oh worry, Oh sorry
Oh sorry, Oh worry It's the lady she's tipsy
No no dear, just dipsy

The usual my good man
Lord Finningley, if you can
He's just in the door
With a mighty big roar

Harvey's the local, both their Lordships, so vocal
Chuffin hell that's the first bell
Make it all doubles pal, that'll do swell
House doubles my Lord? yes Landlord, last bell
Nod to the corner, a new house it's a Mell

In Spain the Alhambra so great
Lots of cobblestones first rate
His lordship's thirst up, and calls for a cup
Dripping gold and a fag lit up

Dressed up like some kippers
Chuffin hell he's in Salami Slippers
They're larger than life, they're oh so swingingly
My, no ordinary Lord and Lady it's surely

The Finningleys

The Finningleys Tony & Jane 2001

New Orchard House Finningley 2005

Harvey Arms, Eric & Maggie Rowland Landlord & Landlady 2005